

Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander (ATSI) Mediation Training Scholarships Program

ADC is an independent, not-for-profit organisation dedicated to advancing Alternative Dispute Resolution knowledge and skills across Australia and the Asia Pacific. Our vision is a world where businesses, government entities and communities in dispute have the knowledge, skills, resources and the commitment to utilise ADR processes appropriate to the nature of their dispute.

Mediation is a proven dispute resolution process utilised around the world to resolve disputes and reduce levels of conflict in many cultural contexts. Mediation promotes access to justice and supports timely, cost-effective and confidential dispute resolution.

FACILITATING THE TRAINING OF NATIONALLY ACCREDITED MEDIATORS

ADC's Corporate Social Responsibility program focuses on ATSI organisations and community members benefitting from knowledge of and access to mediation and to indigenous mediators. ADC mediation training Scholarships are offered for its training courses across Australia.

The program aims to ensure that Scholarship recipients receive culturally sensitive training to the National Mediation Accreditation Standards, are supported by their communities in the role of mediator and benefit from ongoing professional development opportunities.

Candidates are chosen recognising their current work in communities [be that paid or voluntary]; leadership capability; capacity and capability to undertake an intensive 5-day mediation course and their commitment to champion mediation.

Personal referrals, from those who understand the objectives of ADC's program and who know their community members well, are integral to ADC's ability to choose the best possible Scholarship candidates. Please contact us with your personal recommendation.

Would you like to contribute to the work of this important program? ADC is seeking Foundation Sponsors to expand its Scholarship program. As one Native Title Manager said of mediation; "A lot of good work can be done for very little money".
